SEEDS of HARDY FLOWERS— PERENNIALS AND BIENNIALS

HOW TO GROW THEM. Hardy plants (perennials) bloom the second year from seed and are permanent thereafter. Some of them may bloom the first year if the seed is sown very early. Among the perennials we find some of the most beautiful flowers for cutting and many of the old-fashioned sorts dear to our childhood memories. A hardy border properly planned and planted is a source of joy from early spring to late autumn, during that period it will be resplendent with color and yield an abundance of bloom for indoor decoration. The plants need little attention other than to be kept free from weeds and given an occasional top-dressing of plant food.

WHEN TO SOW. Seed may be sown in hotbed in February or March, or out-of-doors from the first days of May to mid-August.

It is well to sow as early as possible, thus permitting the plants to become strong and well established before winter.

WHERE TO SOW. For most perennials a cold frame is an ideal place for starting seeds, but if you do not have one, make a seed-bed of finely sifted light soil, adding and mixing thoroughly well-decayed manure, humus, or prepared plant food. Sow the seed in shallow drills, covering $\frac{1}{4}$ " or more, according to the size of the seed, but very fine seed should only be lightly pressed into the soil.

CARE OF SEEDS AFTER SOWING. Press down the bed with a flat board, and water gently but thoroughly with a fine spray. Do not permit the soil to become dry while the seed is in process of germination, for until the plant develops roots its life depends entirely on moisture. Nearly all failures in growing perennials may be attributed to drying in the seed-bed, which should be carefully watched and watered until the plants have made four to five leaves.

WATER LILIES

Hardy Water Lilies can be set any time from May 1st until the end of August, but tender Lilies not before June. Order early.

A simple way to plant Water Lilies is on rich soil in boxes 2 feet square and 1 foot deep. Cow manure is the best fertilizer but commercial fertilizers can be used. Place one Water Lily root in each box, cover the crown of the plant, then cover with 1 inch of sand or gravel, to prevent discoloration of the water, and sink the boxes in the pond.

Max Schling's Cutting and Bedding Flower Garden Mixture

It is our wish that we would have sufficient space to list all of the testimonials that we have received in praise of his marvelous seed value. We have received reports from all sections of the country extolling the beauty and practical results obtained from sowing this mixture. Carefully blended to strike a perfect balance between the showy bright annuals and those of more subdued tendencies, the result provides a bold effect where required and a vista of real beauty covering large areas where it would be impossible to intensely cultivate a garden. Left to themselves, the vigorous hardy annuals in this mixture self-sow and it can be safely said that a wild garden produced from this seed will be more or less permanent.
